Complete Paralysis of Marine Transport Threatens as Longshoremen's Walkout Spreads.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Labor disputes, which have tied up shipping along the Pacific coast and impeded activity at Gulf and New York ports, spread to the Great Lakes Wednesday.

Longshoremen employed by the Great Lakes Towing Company were scheduled to go on strike last night. Strike votes were being taken at their local ports.

The recent strike of longshoremen had succeeded in putting Pacific coast shipping in a state of paralysis. An appeal was made for federal troops to guard the waterfront to enable non-striking longshoremen to unload 27 ships tied in Elliott Bay. To complete the tally, 6,000 to 7,000 members of the sailors' union and the mariners, mates and pilots union walked out.

Many industrial plants along the coast, including lumber mills at Longview, Wash., and Everett, Wash., were closed or about to close as a result of the strike.

Minnesota also was having its transportation difficulties. Merchandise delivery was tied up almost completely by the strike of 6,000 truck drivers.

The great gasoline drought came to an end at Cleveland, O., where filling stations were reopened after a nearly month old strike of attendants.

Five men who were injured, two of them seriously, in a collision at the plant of the Efficient Tool and Die Company at Cleveland were in medical treatment.

A strike of printers forced papers at Harrisburg, Pa., to suspend circulation.

Call For Troops On West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—An appeal for federal troops to guard the waterfront to non-striking longshoremen could load and unload 37 ships tied up in Elliott Bay Wednesday as the ranks of striking longshoremen on the coast were swelled by several thousands of seamen who walked out in sympathy with the strike.

Mayor John F. Dore of Seattle sought the aid of the troops in an appeal to Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Dyer.

The government meanwhile took steps to prevent the strike from spreading to other parts of the coast. It ordered the Coast Guard to take up to 100 ships on the Pacific coast. Edward J. McGrath, assistant secretary of labor, and side to NRA Administration of the Coast, left Washington Wednesday to go to San Francisco.

Organizations today joined the striking longshoremen there were several thousands in San Francisco Bay would be tied up by a strike of their crews.

The union with an estimated membership of between 7,000 and 8,000 men, including mates and pilots union, also walked out.

Charles Larsen, secretary of the Sailors Union, said the crews of all coastwise vessels would be affected by the strike of that organization. E. J. McGrath, business manager of the mates and pilots union, said the strike would involve Gulf and Atlantic ports.

OTTAWA, May 17.—A new cabinet post, that of minister of the tourist industry, was advocated yesterday before the senate tourist committee.

The secretary of state said that a considerable amount of salmon is carried out by the Department of Fisheries, in cooperation with the Pacific Biological Board.

W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, declared such a survey could not be held until next year, as the seals ended their journey north in the middle of May.

Senator A. D. McLeod asked what the cost of such a survey would be. Mr. Found replied that as far as the seals were concerned, there would be no extra expense, because these seals would be taken care of for some purpose. The maintenance of the patrol boats cost $100,000 a year.

Mr. Found made an introductory statement, on the subject of trade between Canada and the United States which will be discussed at the next sitting of the committee.

HOW TO REDISTRIBUTE THE JOBS

Edmonton Young Liberals are urging that the old age pension scheme be over-hauled, the age requirement lowered from 70 years to 60, the pension paid, a recognition of right, not as an act of charity.

This is strictly in line with progressive thought, with common sense, and also with the fact that the pension is a right, not a matter of fairness. Something must be done as a matter of expediency.

At present in Canada the older men and women are doing the work, the young men living at home, and the young men either also living at home or waiting their time in relief camps at 20 cents a day.

There is no prospect that "recovery" will of itself correct the situation. The machine age is still here. The main contention of the technologists is sound; the machine has created the need for the maximum working power of its entire population armed with machinery.

Some way must be "spread around" what is to continue to be the work of the machine. That may be done by shortening the working day, or by shortening the working life-time. The latter is the better course. The man who has spent forty years in useful labor has fairly earned a life pension for himself and his wife. And his place in the industrial scheme of things is needed by the young.

The just way and the honorable way to redistribute jobs and give the young generation the chance they are entitled to is to give the old man and woman at 60 years of age a pension of one dollar per day for life with no insulting questions asked as to whether that is all they have to live on; and, to the extent that they make way, require them to vacate wage jobs and make way for the younger people who cannot find opportunity for useful employment.

CLAMORING FOR WORK

Of 300 unemployed men who were supposed to report on Tuesday to work out their relief allowances, only about 100 appeared on the streets, on the morning of the 15th. Mass meetings on the main streets and delegations to the city hall are daily outcroppings of fast growing discontent in the ranks of Edmonton's unemployed.

A situation is rapidly developing in this city like that already existing in the Drumheller strike where 120 men have been out of work for weeks and refused to return to work even when told that their families would be cut off the relief list.

The fact is the "idle," always a nuisance, an aggravation and a bill of lading expense, is becoming a menace, here as elsewhere. That must be taken into the consideration of the Government. The unemployed have had all the "dole" system they want, and more than they can tolerate with patience. The taxpayers had more than they wanted of it long ago.

What is needed, in the interests of both, and of "peace, order and good government" as well, is that steps be taken to put employment at fair wage rates within the reach of those who are heart-worn of living on subsistence rations issued as an act of clemency. Nothing but a change-making, wage-paying program can meet the situation. And the money must be got going any way.

KEEPEES OF THE FUTURE

The graduating class of 1934 is the largest in the history of the University of Alberta.

This is the reply to those who think the young generation is lacking in ambition, industry or perseverance. The University of Alberta is a place where the young men and women who reach themselves seriously to study, and who reach the high standard required for graduation from the University of Alberta, are not wanting in these qualities. When they are not wanting in these qualities it is found that they do this in growing numbers; the evidence is equally convincing that the University of Alberta is doing its best to give the young men and women the best of training, resource and confidence.

While, because of the existing conditions, some undoubtedly are tempted to give up, and while in better times have gone out into the world to earn money, the depression has kept them here. And, a cause for their regret is that they are not wanting in these qualities.

is due to those who were unable to do so for lack of means. The graduating class, and the under-graduate classes, would have been larger still, had money been more plentiful. With the world in disorder such as it has not known before, the foundation doctrines of economic belief sharply challenged, and the whole political structure of the country in a state of ferment, it is something that our young people in ever larger numbers are seeking and gaining. There is, according to a witness, less than two cents worth of tobacco in the entire country. The profit to the manufacturers is enormous. One Montreal company made $247,100 profit in the past five years and an additional $5,400,000 from subsidiaries. Executives on $25,000 a year salaries had as much as $400,000 a year added to their income.

J. S. Cooper president on $40,000 a year salary received one year $102,000 as bonus. For the executives and shareholders the tobacco business in this protected Dominion, even in depression years, is a Tom Tiddler's ground for picking up gold and silver.

On the other hand, it appears that big business in protected countries, reeling in huge salaries and colossal bonuses, still keeps a strictly business view when it buys the two cents worth of tobacco for producing each 25 cents worth of cigarettes. Instructions were given to beat down the prices to the unfortunate smokers of Canadian cigarettes. The experts on beating down the market by holding off buying till the growers were ready to take what was offered, told the buyers to buy the tobacco at 22 cents a pound.

The Passing Show

Here are two stories of weepings, taken from the current news.

The first is of a Canadian farm-wife whose tears represent the Parliamentary enquiry into tobacco prices.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By Dan Thomas

CATALINA ISLAND, Calif., May 17.—A few hundred yards off the coast of this island is the Hollywood point where the picture-makers are looking for the world as it is, and the world as it should be.

Robert Louis Stevenson's novel, "Treasure Island," is being made into a picture. The picture is being made by the same man who made the picture of the same name in 1911. The picture is being made by the same man who made the picture of the same name in 1911.

There is only one thing which gives away the old square rigger to the new one. The picture is being made by the same man who made the picture of the same name in 1911.

When completed, "Treasure Island" will be an excellent picture. The picture is being made by the same man who made the picture of the same name in 1911.

However, every one of the characters who play such important parts in the book can be found about the island. The picture is being made by the same man who made the picture of the same name in 1911.

British Tars Take Portuguese War Ship To Columbia

LISBON, May 17.—A crew of British tars took over a Portuguese-built destroyer here yesterday in behalf of the Colombian navy.

They promised to serve the South American country with the same spirit that had marked their service to Britain.

Columbian Ambassador Aya told the assembled tars that he hoped the new naval force would be a very hot political party in Colombia.

Hot in Adelaide
ADELAIDE, Australia, May 17.—Temperature of 103.5 degrees in the shade, with a wind from the north at the highest on record for that month since 1911, when the maximum was 104 in the shade.

There was fun for Ferd and his friends but there was nothing original about it. The boys were grouped with sad faces, chanting dolefully, "Ferd will be king."

Ferd grinned, cried "Cheerio" and went to his place, which couldn't be mistaken as it was decorated with a "Good-bye-to-forget-me" wreath and black streamers.

He brushed the black streamers aside, hung the wreath about his neck and lifted the cocktail glass to his lips.

"I drink to my deluded friends," he said, and he took his time about it, as they had to wait until he was finished.

AMUSEMENTS

RIALTO

In "Manhattan Love Song" Robt. Armstrong has an interesting role as a combination chauffeur and butler for two wealthy sisters, who are suddenly left penniless by the defalcation of their banker. It is at this point that the chauffeur steps in and assumes command of the situation with many amusing complications.

Featured with Armstrong is pretty blonde Dixie Lee, while others in the cast are Franklin Pangborn, Helen Ford, Yvonne Westman, Herman Bing, Cecil Cunningham and Harold Walbridge.

This splendid comedy feature is playing at the Rialto theatre today and Friday.

SIKAND

One of the greatest dramatic plays in the history of the stage came to the Strand screen yesterday when Paramount's production of "The Fighting Rango" opened at the Strand.

The new production retains the original story line, but adds a tremendous dramatic value. The picture has all the thrills, action, and plot of a great novel.

It tells the story of an old man, who for years has existed only in memory, coming to life to save and strengthen the fading memory of his son. It is the story of an old man, who for years has existed only in memory, coming to life to save and strengthen the fading memory of his son.

The Canadian potato crop for 1933 is estimated at 1,200,000 hundredweight, an increase of five per cent over the 1932 production of 1,134,000 hundredweight.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN PARADE HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Will Conclude With Religious Services at Parliament Buildings

As a preliminary to the annual Highland games to be held on the South Side Athletic ground on Empire day, May 24, a grand parade, featuring by the playing of three pipe bands, will be held on Sunday next and will be concluded with a religious service on the green lawn before the legislative buildings.

There will be riders in the parade from both the 19 Alberta Dragoons and the Legion of Frontiersmen.

Under the supervision of Parade Organizer James Campbell, of Lacombe, the parade will form up in front of the Edmonton Highland Games office, 100 street, just north of Jasper avenue in time to move off at 2:30 p.m.

J. Miller is parade marshal. In the lead will be Tom H. Campbell, president of the Highland Games association, and Rev. C. C. McLeod, the padre.

There will come the 4th Battalion Highlanders, and members of the Highland Games Committee, who will be followed by the 19th Alberta Dragoons, and the Legion of Frontiersmen, and will be in order.

From Jasper and 100 street, the parade will move west to 17th street and south to the legislative building. Special accommodations are being provided.

MASSED CHOR
Rev. C. C. McLeod will open the service and Rev. R. A. Osborn will conduct the singing. A number of 100 voices will take part in the service, conducted by Henry Atack, of the 19th Alberta Dragoons. Scottish hymns will be sung. At the close of the service, the bands will lead the parade back to Victoria park, where the units will assemble.

Hopes for the biggest and best parade yet seen, by the organizers, and it is felt that last year's attendance of 100,000 was exceeded this year.

Bedford College, England, has a course in its musical department for students, with which they are instructed in the playing of red instruments.

Frank L. Grizewald, alias James Fahey, who escaped from Leavenworth penitentiary in the United States where he was serving a "life" term for robbery of a U.S. mail train near Omaha, Nebraska, 14 years ago, is today a free man.

Thursday morning Judge Crawford, of the Alberta district court, dismissed the action against Fahey for extradition to the United States.

When the court opened J. J. Fahey, K.C., acting on behalf of the United States state department, announced that he had received information from H. M. Collins, American consul in Edmonton, that Fahey was in the United States.

At Washington, D.C., he had decided to withdraw the extradition proceedings.

Woe Dotty had a lot of fun. Said she, "I shortly will be done with drinking. My, what pretty flowers! See how nice they grow."

"They must be thirsty as can be seen," as she said, "for they drink the water just as fast as I can make it flow."

"Then up to her brave Scoury ran," she said, "and that wat'ry can," he shouted, "I am good and strong, and I won't get tired out."

Mistress Mary waded a little while, exclaiming, "This will do the trick!" A cricket, nearby, played a fiddle, making quite a sound.

The face on each bloom then spread into a grin. Then Goldilocks said, "Oh, look they're rising from the earth, and each one has small feet!"

"I know that this will be just grand. They're ready, now, to grow!"

"I think that Mistress Mary's been real fine to us since we walked into her garden, so we worked it out." Then the flowers whirled in a smile, said, "How wonderful you took to see a fine dance of the flowers!"

"I give them lots to drink, you see. So they are very kind to me. Unlike I stop them when they're dancing and they yell dance 'bout'!"

"Go right ahead and start the dance," said Duncy. "Goodness, there's a chance to see a show for nothing!" Then he squatted on the hand-in-hand. Come, join me on this rock, folks, which is like a garden and a dance floor!" And then the flowers whirled around in perfect rhythm to the sound of the music and upon his fiddle. What a sight.

"I wish that I could dance like you!" said Duncy. "I'd feel like that," said Betty. "Just look how they sway to and fro, and then they stop!"

SPORT ENJOYS FINE SEMESTER AT UNIVERSITY

Twelve Branches of Sport Sponsored in Year At U. of A.

By PAUL MALONE

Although no official recognition of student athletic ability is given at the University of Alberta convocation services, the importance of this phase of campus life can be estimated from the fact that out of an attending body of nearly two thousand students, approximately one-fifth of that number engaged in some form of organized activity during the past year.

The Men's Athletic Association, sponsoring a complete program of athletic sports, reported a decided upward trend in interest in athletics during the past season. Twelve varieties of sport were sponsored by this body, which was headed by a strong executive. Rev. Brother Phillips, honorary president, Fred Gale, president, and Ernie Ayer, secretary, together with the heads of the various individual sports, comprised the male governing body.

The corresponding women's association executive was headed by Mrs. Wyatt, an honorary president. Helen Ford, president, and Amy Cogswell, vice-president, headed the women's organization.

HOCKEY SUCCESSFUL

Most successful of the senior teams was the men's hockey club which in addition to reaching the city final, brought the Halpern trophy, emblematic of intercollegiate supremacy, to Alberta for the first time by defeating the University of Saskatchewan representative in a home and home game series. Members of the U. of A. squad, which was coached by Al Wilson, were Peter Ruck, Ralph Mackay, Guy Kinner, Duke Ferguson, Willie Scott, Alex Burgen, Jack McConnell, Don Gibson, Jack Trill and Joe Rust.

Provincial and intercollegiate athletes were crowned by the senior football squad which met the Calgary Athletic Union University of British Columbia gridders during their season. Coached by Al Wilson and managed by Ernie Tye, the Alberta team consisted of Fred Gale, Bob Zander, Lyle Jettley, Bill Hargrave, Willie Hutton, Peter Ruck, Guy Kinner, Bill Scott, Alex Burgen, Jack McConnell, "Blaney" Hutton, Art Kinner, Ivan Smith, Ken Grant, and "Red" Cooper.

Another senior team of the men's baseball team, which competed in the city league against the Grads and Grizzlies, were Ray Swallow, Helen Ford, Amy Cogswell, Margaret Clayton, Irene Barrett, Howard, Lyle Jettley, and Ruth Carlyle. Pucketers who displayed their wares on the women's senior hockey team were Muriel O'Brien, Jean Smith, Barbara Burns, Phyllis Mullen, Sadie Gibson, Marjorie Burnice Smith and Mary Hewitt.

MUCH NEW MATERIAL

A strange twist to the university athletic situation during the past year was that all senior classes were working with new material, which, though possessing undoubted ability, lacked necessary experience. This deficiency has been remedied for the coming term and prospects are that many new laurels will grace the coming term and prospects are that the conclusion of the scholastic year of 1934.
